The picture below shows a front foot with a medial hoof injury. The injury was caused by an abscess in the medial heel, which has now affected the (medial) lateral cartilage making the horse very lame. The injury is now two weeks old. You are required to design and make a shoe to fit the foot below, rendering the horse more comfortable.

The shoe must be made out of mild steel or aluminium, from bar stock supplied at the competition. You may apply modern materials to the shoe (this must be supplied by yourself). The shoe must be able to be nailed on.

(Talk to other farriers- good luck!)

The foot measures: (Not shoe measurements)

Length of foot toe to lateral heel -	152mm	6 inch
Width of foot at widest part -	140mm	5 ½ inch
